

Collective Intelligence and Digital Archives: Towards Knowledge Ecosystems

Edited by Samuel Szoniecky & Nasreddine Bouhai

Wiley-ISTE, London
ISBN : 978178630060-7
260 pages

The digitalization of archives produces a huge mass of structured documents (Big Data). Due to the proactive approach of public institutions (libraries, archives, administrations ...), this data is more and more accessible. This book aims to present and analyze concrete examples of collective intelligence at the service of digital archives.
